SCHOOL REPORT.

In assuming the duties which fell to us as members of the Board of Education, we were aware that a majority of the people looked upon the new law with disfavor, and that any changes which we might make in the location or management of the schools would be open to their criticism. Our knowledge of the schools throughout town, aside from the few with which we had been personally connected, was limited, and in order that we might act with intelligence we found it necessary to visit the different schoolhouses, ascertain their condition and needs, and make a thorough canvass of the scholars likely to attend. From the information thus gained, we felt justified in dispensing with schools in Nos. 3 and 14; while in Nos. 7, 11, and 12 it was thought practicable to have but one term. If the schoolhouses were more conveniently located, it would be easy to still further decrease the number of schools without serious inconvenience to any. Until such changes are made, our schools will lack interest by reason of the small number of pupils, and the terms must necessarily be short unless more money be appropriated for their support. Last year the smallest school in town cost over one dollar per week for each scholar attending. This year, by reducing the number of schools, we have lowered this to $62\frac{1}{2}$ cents.

There is still a wide difference in the cost of schools through town, as may be seen from the following:—

No. 2, with 8 scholars, cost $62\frac{1}{2}$ cents per week for each scholar attending.

No. 5, with 22 scholars, cost $24\frac{1}{2}$ cents per week for each scholar attending.

No. 8, with 24 scholars, cost 32 cents per week for each scholar attending.

TEACHERS.

In employing teachers we have endeavored, so far as possible, to secure those who have had previous experience, but in this we have labored under a disadvantage, as teachers, like others, prefer to go where they can obtain the most money, and other towns with longer schools have offered greater inducements than we.

Notwithstanding this obstacle, we have been able to secure teachers who have generally proved equal to the wants of the schools. Many have had long experience, and all have labored hard to raise the schools to a standard of excellence of which they may be justly proud.

ATTENDANCE.

The attendance, with a few exceptions, has been good, except where interrupted by sickness.

TEXT-BOOKS.

In text-books we have introduced Smith's Primer of Physiology and Hygiene, as supplementary to the larger one now in use, it being, in our opinion, better adapted to the wants of small scholars. We have also recommended Colburn's Mental Arithmetic, in place of Hagar's Elementary.

REPAIRS.

During the year we have made only such slight repairs as seemed absolutely necessary; but if the schoolhouses are to remain where they now are, extensive repairs will be needed upon several to make them comfortable.

ROLL OF HONOR.

This roll contains the names of all scholars who have not been absent or tardy during the whole term.

OF THE
NEW BOSTON CEMETERY

To MARCH 1, 1887.

Fellow-Citizens,—Beyond the superintendent's report, submitted herewith, there is but little for us to present to you. Yet, as one of the duties pertaining to the board, we yearly submit to you a report of the condition of affairs pertaining to our cemetery. During the past season there has not been quite as much work bestowed on the improvement of private lots as some years previous. Of course, each year, as lots are being taken and occupied and improved, there is not the necessity of so much work in the aggregate, and we do not mean by this that there has been any diminution of interest or improvement in the cemetery generally. But we wish to urge those who have thus far neglected to tastefully arrange their lots or the place where their ancestors and relatives are buried, to devote a little time the coming season to their improvement, as each lot improved and specially cared for makes these neglected ones still more marked and observed for their neglect.

Beyond mowing over the unoccupied portion of the grounds and the removal of some of the surface stones, the trustees have not caused much work to be done, except to grade up the fountain lot and erect, as by your vote, a new hearse-house. Except a little time spent in the start by the board in consultation and planning, the care of its erection has been attended to by Mr. McLane of the board; and while, perhaps, some may have desired a more elaborate and fanciful house, we deemed it best to keep inside of the appropriation generously voted by you, and we feel we have now a convenient, roomy, well-proportioned house and one that compares favorably with any of our sister towns. The items of expense relating to this in the town report will not quite cover the work to a finish, as there will be a little more expense in setting a stone threshold and putting on a second coat of paint, and some minor additions needed to the comfort and use of the house. We have also advised a thorough repair and painting of the hearse, and the faded trimmings inside should be replaced with new, and, while the total will amount to quite a considerable item of expense, we believe you will not hesitate to sanction the outlay if you will make an examination of it as it is. There are indeed but few who care little for the appearance of the hearse when it comes to bear away the remains of kindred to their last resting-place, and we desire that it shall be in such a condition that none shall have cause for complaint. The superintendent spares no pains to meet the wishes of all in these matters.

Unerringly and swiftly are the cycles of time being made, and each report shows new homes desolated and those with whom "we have taken sweet counsel together" departed from us. As you review the superintendent's report of death and burial, you will find all ages and classes represented: the babe in its purity and love, the young in the flower of youth and ripening into manhood and womanhood, the matured strong man and woman, the aged, loved, respected father and mother, and the stranger, once a resident of these hills and valleys, now gathered to the home of his youth with those who from infancy to old age have been among us and of us. One of those who have been gathered to the confines of the cemetery has often contributed generously for the adornment of its grounds, and all have at last been laid at rest in its bosom.

Respectfully,

DANIEL CAMPBELL,
NEIL McLANE,
GEORGE A. WASON,
THOMAS R. COCHRAN,
SOLOMON D. ATWOOD,

Trustees of Cemetery.
